The applicant certifies they understand that sketch plan approval does not constitute approval for site development and construction activities. No site development or construction activities including land disturbance of any kind may commence until the Construction Documents as well as all other applicable local, state, and federal permits have been reviewed and approved of by the Planning and Zoning Department. Only Final Plat approval authorizes the applicant to sell or otherwise transfer lots or parcels within the platted subdivision. Additional review fees are required for Construction Document and Final Plat submittals.
